BENSON HEARS 'BEEFS' — Senator Allen J. Ellender and other Democrats and Republicans accused Benson of charging to farms losses encountered in providing food for foreign nations, welfare agencies and the armed forces.

Benson Confident Of Cut in Props

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson said today he sees a good chance Congress will authorize the reduced farm price support minimums requested by President Eisenhower.

Benson said he was not discouraged by the hot reception he and the President's program got Friday at a public hearing before the Senate Agriculture Committee. Some senators challenged Benson's sincerity and the accuracy of some of his statements.

Although Benson expressed optimism about prospects for the administration's new farm program, committee Chairman Ellender (D-La.) and Sen. Thyne (R-Minn.) predicted that Congress never will grant his request for authority to set price props on the basic crops and dairy products between 60 and 90 per cent of parity.

The present minimum is 75 per cent of parity, a legal standard for farm prices said by law to be fair to farmers in relation to their costs. The basic crops are wheat, corn, cotton, rice, tobacco and peanuts.

ELLENDER SAID lower price support minimums haven't "the ghost of a chance" of winning congressional approval.

"I can't for the life of me see how it is possible to improve the lot of the farmer by reducing his prices," Ellender said.

Thyne predicted "We'll never cut supports below 75 per cent." Benson told newsmen he would concede that "in a campaign year, a political year," like this one he

IKE'S PENTAGON PLAN ASKED

Wayne, Washington, New Holland Take Petitions to State Board

Wayne and Washington Twp. citizens and New Hollanders today awaited the decision of the State Board of Education on their requests for transfer of school territory.

Transfer petitions of all three Pickaway County districts were the subject of conferences before four state officials yesterday in Columbus.

Hearing arguments for and against transfer of the territory were R. M. Eymann, assistant superintendent of public instruction; W. D. Darling, executive assistant to the superintendent; Frank Cochran, supervisor of transportation, and Glenn Rich, director of the division of elementary and secondary education.

The four men will make recommendations to E. E. Holt, superintendent of public instruction, who will make further recommendations to the state board for a decision. Eymann said at yesterday's conference that it is hoped the recommendations will be in the hands of the state board of education for a decision at the next meeting, February 10.

Fifty-two persons jammed the conference room for presentation of the New Holland case. Speaking for New Holland were Cris Cross, Lawrence Hunter and Joe F. Asher, attorney for New Holland.

SPEAKING FOR WAYNE TWP. were William J. Barthelmas, Route 2, George L. Roth, Route 2, and Asher. For Washington Twp., the speakers were William F. Crist, W. Fred Clutton and E. R. (Tom) Bennett.

George McDowell, Pickaway County superintendent of schools; Pickaway County Board members Neil Morris, C. E. Dick and Howard Huston spoke, along with William Knepner, attorney for the county board.

Each conference lasted about 90 minutes. The crowd thinned out after the New Holland hearing.

Cross told the state officials that 93 per cent of the qualified voters in the New Holland District wish transfer to the Fayette County School District.

The reasons: The people of the area feel natural ties to Fayette County are now in existence; Washington C. H. is only eight miles away; all power and light come from Washington C. H.; livestock sales are at Washington C. H.; the New Holland High School annual is supported by Fayette County merchants 10 to 1 more than by Pickaway County; phone calls to most of Fayette County are toll-free as opposed to Pickaway County; there are more readers of the Washington C. H. Record-Herald than the Circleville Herald; and 70 per cent of the school district is in Fayette County.

Cross said some of the advantages are: The Miami Trace bond issue as been approved, land has been auctioned and curriculum set; the terrain of the Pickaway County area is unfavorable, no site has been picked for a school, the tax duplicate is much lower.

"We intend to effect a transfer to Fayette County whether now or in the future," Cross declared.

Asher pointed out that the petition represent all but six school children in the New Holland District.

Asher, before the hearings on

Wayne and New Holland began, objected to the proceedings on the grounds that the conference committee has no power since the state board cannot delegate its authority. He also had a transcript made of the New Holland and Wayne hearings, indicating he will take the fight further if the transfer to Fayette County is not granted.

Roth and Barthelmas told the state officials that Wayne has a long history of connection with Circleville City Schools to which the entire Wayne District seeks transfer.

THEY POINTED OUT that transportation to the new district would be much farther than to Circleville; the Circleville system has already provided for Wayne pupils; connection with the new Westfall District would perhaps cause the elimination of the Wayne school building which is the only community center in the township; Circleville now has 67 academic subjects and the new proposed Westfall School could not offer that many.

Washington Twp. spokesmen declared that the section involved in the transfer petition, which seeks to join the Circleville City system, is essentially suburban and residents are "city folks." They stated that the territory involved is only 2 1/2 per cent of the new Logan Elm District and has only 3 per cent of the pupils.

In each case the county superintendent told the conference committee that the Pickaway County School Board feels each of the territories involved is vital to its consolidation program and that "whittling" away territory will disrupt moves already made.

Board representatives told the committee that it has given years of study to the matter. They said they feel rural pupils should go to a rural school in the case of Wayne and Washington transfers, and that loss of New Holland territory would seriously affect the Westfall consolidated district through loss of pupils and revenue.

House Leader Cites Chief's 'Responsibility'

McCormack Statement On Shakeup Is Seen As Serving Notice

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. McCormack (D-Mass.), the House majority leader, said today it is President Eisenhower's responsibility as commander-in-chief to tell Congress how he thinks the Pentagon should be reorganized.

The Democratic leader, whose party controls both houses of Congress, in effect served notice that the legislators would be reluctant to put through a major reorganization without a plan from the President whose duties include command of the armed forces.

Demands have been aired on Capitol Hill for a drastic military reshuffling to end any harmful interservice rivalry. Some congressmen have said a "knocking of heads" at the Pentagon without a new law, would do the job.

McCormack, a top member of the House Government Operations Committee which handles reorganization plans, said Eisenhower's latest remarks indicate a delay before any plan comes from the chief executive.

As House and Senate committees recessed their inquiries over the weekend, there were these developments:

1. GEN. NATHAN F. Twining, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and former Air Force chief of staff, told the Senate Preparedness Subcommittee in effect that he would turn in his uniform rather than criticize Eisenhower's defense budget.

2. Twining issued a special statement denying charges that interservice rivalry has stymied a firm agreement on war plans.

3. Testimony released by the House Armed Services Committee spoke of plans to start building three detection centers outside the United States. Secretary of the Air Force James Douglas said they are intended to detect oncoming ballistic missiles.

It was learned the three stations would be built in the Arctic. They would use 3,000-mile range radar to spot any Russian missiles within minutes of launching from Eurasia.

Construction cost of these stations was set at $189 million with a possible total cost of more than $250 million after radar equipment is included.

Such a detection system would give the United States perhaps 15 minutes warning time—not enough for evacuation of cities but enough time to get U. S. H-bombers on their way to Soviet targets.

Twining told the Senate subcommittee "We are not today, in my judgment, in a position of inferior strength vis-a-vis the Soviet Union" and "we can take care of the future if we will put our energies to the task."

Tigers Falter, Lose 56-53 Game To Lucasville Quint

By PAUL SMALLWOOD
Herald Staff Writer

Circleville's cage Tigers, playing by far their poorest game of the season, dropped a 56-53 contest to Lucasville last night in the local gym.

The Tigers led throughout the first two quarters but slipped terribly in the last two periods by repeatedly losing the ball to an aggressive Lucasville outfit.

It marked the second time this year the Tigers have dropped two in a row. They were defeated last week by Wilmington, 71-51. It also spoiled the locals' bid for win number seven in 10 starts.

The whole story can be summed up by saying the CHS eagers were outplayed in every department in the last half. Their shooting and rebounding was far below the par of any game this season.

TIGER scoring ace Bill Johnson had his worst night of the season, hitting for only eight points and picking up six rebounds. Jon Parcher who usually picks up the slack when Johnson is cold, also tallied only eight.

The game was complete with thrills and excitement as the final score indicates. Action turned fast and furious in the last few minutes with Circleville putting on a desperate effort to close the gap.

With the score deadlocked, 48-48, and about 3 1/2 minutes left, Lucasville punctured the Tigers' victory balloon by grabbing a lead and hanging on.

About only bright spot for Circleville was Don Rowland's 14 points, mostly long handers, and three straight baskets by sophomore Dick Smith in the fourth quarter which put CHS ahead for a short moment.

Mike Hosler collected 10 points, Asa Elsie hit for seven and Smith ended with six to complete Circleville's scoring.

Junior Bob Haney was the most formidable opponent with 19 points, most of his tallies coming from underneath. Dave Grooms, capitalizing on a one hand jump shot, added 14 and Larry Merritt netted 10.

CIRCLEVILLE got off to a decent start by notching a 15-12 first quarter lead. The Tigers remained ahead, 27-22, at halftime, but the bottom started to fall out in the third period.

Watch for Special Series On Preparing Tax Returns

Each year Uncle Sam's tax collectors discover that unformed, careless or foolish taxpayers have turned over to the Internal Revenue Service millions of dollars it didn't have coming.

Many of these taxpayers are fortunate—the government will refund money when it finds an error in the taxpayer's favor. But all returns cannot be checked. The wise taxpayer will make certain he is filing a correct return, paying the government exactly what is due.

To help you do this, a series of eight articles on your income tax will begin Monday in this newspaper.

The articles will take you step-by-step through the complicated tax procedure, from who must file to a description of the kinds of expenses you can deduct to lower your tax.

Included is a full explanation of the controversial line 6 (a), placed by the Internal Revenue Service on 1957 forms and then cancelled. The line is on your form, but you have a choice whether to use it or not.

Another article describes exemptions, giving the requirements persons you support entirely or in part must meet before you are permitted to claim them as dependents.

The last article details the errors which turn up most frequently and gives some valuable pointers on how to make sure they don't occur in your return.

Be sure to watch for the series, and clip each article for ready reference when you are ready to prepare your return.

'Faulty' Polio Vaccine Brings Jury Award

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—A jury which said it had no choice under the judge's instructions awarded $147,300 for two children crippled by polio after they received injections of allegedly faulty Salk vaccine in 1955.

The judgment was against Cutter Laboratories, producer of the vaccine.

The eight women and four men by an 11-1 vote awarded the parents of Anne Elizabeth Gottsdank, 8, now of Providence, R. I., $131,500 and the parents of James Randall, 4, of Monrovia, Calif., $15,800. They had sued jointly for $365,000.

Anne Elizabeth was said to have lost the use of one leg and partial use of the other, and to have developed a curved spine. James was less seriously hurt.

The jury issued a statement with its decision which said the majority felt that Cutter Laboratories was not negligent "either directly or by inference."

The statement continued "With regard to the law of warranty, we feel that we have no alternative but to conclude that Cutter marketed vaccine which caused the plaintiffs to come down with poliomyelitis."

Judge Thomas J. Ledwich said after the verdict:

"It boiled down to this—did the children get polio from the vaccine or didn't they? You can call it a directed verdict."

Recall of Reserve Personnel Urged

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Reserve Officers Assn. today asked that every reservist recently dropped from the armed forces in personnel cutbacks be restored to active duty.

Col. John T. Carlton, the association's executive director, told a House Armed Services subcommittee that further cutbacks should be held up until a new survey of U. S. military needs is made.

The Pentagon began a series of armed forces cuts last summer that would, if completely carried out, reduce the service strength from the 1953 level of 3.6 million to 2.6 million by mid-1958.

A PLAINTIVE NOTE — Minkah Maria Meneghini Callas, her fiery temper several degrees below normal, pleads with newsmen to "have a heart" and leave her alone as she arrives in Chicago's Midway airport. Her Chicago concert will be her first public appearance since she created an uproar in Rome by stalking out in the middle of an opera.

Temperamental Diva Is Cool In Chicago

CHICAGO (AP)—If Chicagoans expected Mme. Maria Meneghini Callas to make an explosive entrance Friday, they were sadly disappointed.

Her arrival by plane from Paris was cool, calm and quite collected. Once installed in her hotel suite, she went to bed and stayed there.

Others "hustled and bustled about," as a hotel spokesman put it, but the opera singer, her husband, Giovanni Battista Meneghini, their Italian maid, and the diva's pet poodle, Toy, slept.

On arriving at the hotel, the temperamental soprano, expecting to be assigned the presidential suite, was quartered four-stories up, in a three-room suite.

Once upstairs, she asked for a piano and told the manager that the suite was too hot and too dry. Could something be done?

A maintenance man was dispatched to the ninth floor. He said she was "very agreeable about it" as she voiced her complaint while lying majestically in bed. He showed her how to work the thermostat, left a couple of pans of water to restore the humidity and left.

Soon afterward, the piano arrived in five pieces, but the diva was fast asleep as workmen assembled it. Flowers and telegrams piled up, but no one stirred.

Mme. Callas flew to Chicago to sing at a benefit concert Wednesday night for the Alliance Française Scholarship Fund.

Wayne and Washington Twp. citizens and New Hollanders today awaited the decision of the State Board of Education on their requests for transfer of school territory.

U.S. Unemployed Figure Sets Mark

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government says 2,809,300 workers claimed unemployment compensation in the week ended Jan. 4, an increase of 448,900 over the previous week and a record.

The Bureau of Employment Security said Friday that the figure topped the previous high mark set in January 1950.

The Bureau said the largest increases in claims were reported in Illinois, Pennsylvania, Michigan, California, New York and North Carolina. Increases were reported in all but four states.

The agency said the rise was due mainly to job cutbacks in metals, machinery and automobiles.

Circleville's cage Tigers, playing by far their poorest game of the season, dropped a 56-53 contest to Lucasville last night in the local gym.

The Tigers led throughout the first two quarters but slipped terribly in the last two periods by repeatedly losing the ball to an aggressive Lucasville outfit.

It marked the second time this year the Tigers have dropped two in a row. They were defeated last week by Wilmington, 71-51. It also spoiled the locals' bid for win number seven in 10 starts.

The whole story can be summed up by saying the CHS eagles were outplayed in every department in the last half. Their shooting and rebounding was far below the par of any game this season.

TIGER scoring ace B. Johnson had his worst night of the season, hitting for only eight points and picking up six rebounds. Jon Pacher who usually picks up the slack when Johnson is cold, also tallied only eight.

The game was complete with thrills and excitement as the final score indicates. Action turned fast and furious in the last few minutes with Circleville putting on a desperate effort to close the gap.

With the score deadlocked, 48-48, and about 3½ minutes left, Lucasville punctured the Tigers' victory balloon by grabbing a lead and hanging on.

About only bright spot for Circleville was Don Rowland's 14 points, mostly long one handers, and three straight baskets by sophomore Dick Smith in the fourth quarter which put CHS ahead for a short moment.

Mike Hosler collected 10 points, Asa Elsie hit for seven and Smith ended with six to complete Circleville's scoring.

Junior Bob Haney was the most formidable opponent with 19 points, most of his tallies coming from underneath. Dave Grooms, capitalizing on a one hand jump shot, added 14 and Larry Merritt netted 10.

CIRCLEVILLE got off to a decent start by notching a 15-12 first quarter lead. The Tigers remained ahead, 27-22, at halftime, but the bottom started to fall out in the third period.

Adopted Mongrel Pup Saves New Masters

KENTFIELD, Calif. (AP)—Six weeks ago, Mr. and Mrs. David Wayne read in a newspaper that Skipper, a black mongrel, would be put to death by a humane society unless he found a home. The Waynes gave him one.

Friday, Wayne, slightly overcome to smoke, was awakened by Skipper tugging at his pajamas. He aroused his wife, Margaret, and they dashed to safety.

Firemen put out the blaze after it damaged the kitchen.

Watch for Special Series On Preparing Tax Returns

Each year Uncle Sam's tax collectors discover that unformed, careless or foolish taxpayers have turned over to the Internal Revenue Service millions of dollars it didn't have coming.

Many of these taxpayers are fortunate—the government will refund money when it finds an error in the taxpayer's favor. But all returns cannot be checked. The wise taxpayer will make certain he is filing a correct return, paying the government exactly what is due.

To help you do this, a series of eight articles on your income tax will begin Monday in this newspaper.

The articles will take you step-by-step through the complicated tax procedure, from who must file to a description of the kinds of expenses you can deduct to lower your tax.

Included is a full explanation of the controversial line 6 (a), placed by the Internal Revenue Service on 1957 forms and then cancelled. The line is on your form, but you have a choice whether to use it or not.

Another article describes exemptions, giving the requirements persons you support entirely or in part must meet before you are permitted to claim them as dependents.

The last article details the errors which turn up most frequently and gives some valuable pointers on how to make sure they don't occur in your return.

Be sure to watch for the series, and clip each article for ready reference when you are ready to prepare your return.

'Faulty' Polio Vaccine Brings Jury Award

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—A jury which said it had no choice under the judge's instructions awarded $147,300 for two children crippled by polio after they received injections of allegedly faulty Salk vaccine in 1955.

The judgment was against Cutter Laboratories, producer of the vaccine.

The eight women and four men by an 11-1 vote awarded the parents of Anne Elizabeth Gottsdank, 8, now of Providence, R. I., $131,500 and the parents of James Randall, 4, of Monrovia, Calif., $15,800. They had sued jointly for $365,000.

Anne Elizabeth was said to have lost the use of one leg and partial use of the other, and to have developed a curved spine. James was less seriously hurt.

The jury issued a statement with its decision which said the majority felt that Cutter Laboratories was not negligent "either directly or by inference."

The statement continued "With regard to the law of warranty, we feel that we have no alternative but to conclude that Cutter marketed vaccine which caused the plaintiffs to come down with poliomyelitis."

Judge Thomas J. Ledwich said after the verdict: "It boiled down to this—did the children get polio from the vaccine or didn't they? You can call it a directed verdict."

Recall of Reserve Personnel Urged

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Reserve Officers Assn. today asked that every reservist recently dropped from the armed forces in personnel cutbacks be restored to active duty.

Col. John T. Carlton, the association's executive director, told a House Armed Services subcommittee that further cutbacks should be held up until a new survey of U. S. military needs is made.

The Pentagon began a series of armed forces cuts last summer that would, if completely carried out, reduce the service strength from the 1953 level of 3.6 million to 2.6 million by mid-1958.

A PLAINTIVE NOTE—Mink-clad Maria Meneghini Callas, her fiery temper several degrees below normal, pleads with newsmen to "have a heart" and leave her alone as she arrives in Chicago's Midway airport. Her Chicago concert will be her first public appearance since she created an uproar in Rome by stalking out in the middle of an opera.

Temperamental Diva Is Cool In Chicago

CHICAGO (AP)—If Chicagoans expected Mme. Maria Meneghini Callas to make an explosive entrance Friday, they were sadly disappointed.

Her arrival by plane from Paris was cool, calm and quite collected. Once installed in her hotel suite, she went to bed and stayed there.

Others "hustled and bustled about," as a hotel spokesman put it, but the opera singer, her husband, Giovanni Battista Meneghini, their Italian maid, and the diva's pet poodle, Toy, slept.

On arriving at the hotel, the temperamental soprano, expecting to be assigned the presidential suite, was quartered four stories up, in a three-room suite.

Once upstairs, she asked for a piano and told the manager that the suite was too hot and too dry. Could something be done?

A maintenance man was dispatched to the ninth floor. He said she was "very agreeable about it" as she voiced her complaint while lying majestically in bed. He showed her how to work the thermostats, left a couple of pans of water to restore the humidity and left.

Soon afterward, the piano arrived in five pieces, but the diva was fast asleep as workmen assembled it. Flowers and telegrams piled up, but no one stirred.

Mme. Callas flew to Chicago to sing at a benefit concert Wednesday night for the Alliance Française Scholarship Fund.

Air Commander Sure Of U.S. Superiority

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Gen. Otto P. Weyland, commander of the Tactical Air Command, says the United States is "definitely ahead of Russia in overall air power."

Weyland said the Russians may be ahead in "several phases of their missile program," but he said he is certain they have no long range operational missile.

The Tigers hope to shake their two-game losing streak tonight when they travel to Chillicothe for a return engagement with the formidable Cavaliers. The reserve test is scheduled to start at 7 p. m.

Circleville gained some consolation by registering a 35-27 victory in the reserve contest.

THE Kittens battled to a 13-5 first quarter lead and stayed ahead for the remainder of the game.

Rangy Bob Shadley turned in his best game of the season by firing for 10 points and doing some rebounding. Leo Moats added nine points and also worked well under the boards. Archie Ward followed with eight markers and Larry Hannahs and Jake Bailey each posted four.

Burton and Pfleger with eight each were high for the Lucasville juniors.

Guenther Gives Up Plans For Sanitary Landfill Dump

Plans for a sanitary landfill operation just east of Nicholas Drive have been dropped, owner Otto F. Guenther, 451 E. Main St., said today.

Guenther said, "I apologize to the people who are so bitterly against the idea. I guess Circleville doesn't need a sanitary landfill. The whole project will be dropped. I'll continue to farm the land as it has been in the past. I felt the town needed a sanitary place to take garbage and refuse, but I guess I was wrong."

Guenther had planned to start a sanitary landfill on a 55-acre tract just east of Nicholas Drive. He already had purchased a bulldozer and had hired four men to operate the landfill and keep the area and roads surrounding it clean.

FREEWAY ROUTE — This is the recommended route of the Cincinnati-Conneaut Freeway between Columbus and Cincinnati. The State Department of Highways has received this recommendation from the project engineers. It passes through the extreme northwest corner of Pickaway County, parallel to Route 3. It would be 73.9 miles long and four to six lanes the entire length of the route. Construction probably will not start before July 1, 1959.

Pre-Nuptial Red Tape

Frustrated Couple Finds Marriage License Elusive

By J. I. SMITH
Herald Staff Writer

So you want to get married in Indiana? Well, take it from this reporter and his bride-to-be it will be the most frustrating, agonizing and exasperating experience of your pre-marital life.

Wednesday we left for Richmond, Ind. around 1 p. m. to obtain our marriage license. This was the last legal requirement we needed to be married January 25 on the campus of the University of Notre Dame, South Bend, Ind.

In our possession were the blood tests taken by our personal physicians and approval of the Ohio Department of Health, Columbus. The blood tests were in forms sent to the Ohio Health Dept. by the State of Indiana, which required the state to conduct the examination instead of a private laboratory.

My bride-to-be is presently employed by the Dr. Anson Brown Technical Lab, Columbus, and has been there for 3 1/2 years. She therefore has handled hundreds of blood tests for Indiana marriage licenses. Since there was no information presented to her laboratory or to the state lab of any change of Indiana law we were rather elated on our drive toward the Hoosier state. We thought we were just matter-of-factly going to Indiana to obtain a simple and uncomplicated marriage license like many thousands of Ohioans had received before.

AS HAS BEEN commonly known for many years (since Kentucky instituted laws preventing quick marriages), Indiana has been the "marrying state". Many elopements by teenagers and hasty marriages had been accomplished by Ohioans in Indiana.

Our only worry was the time element. We both could get off work for only half a day and time was growing short. Our first premonition of disaster should have struck us as we entered Richmond and found that Indiana was an hour behind us in time and that it was only 2 p. m.

We arrived in the Richmond Marriage License Bureau. The clerk asked for our age identification, which was quite a compliment, and then for our blood tests. Immediately she informed us that they were invalid as of January 1, 1958 and that we couldn't obtain our license. After pleading for 10 minutes and explaining that on the bottom of the tests it said they were good for 30 days. We asked to see the judge.

He heard our story and said he would talk to the clerk. Well, we thought this would be a simple matter of understanding our plight and the rather absurd law would be overlooked in our case.

How wrong can two people get? The judge returned and explained that no exception could be made and that we would have to get blood tests approved by a doctor practicing in Indiana.

"This will take several days", he said, "and then you must return and pick up your blood tests and make application for a license." He continued, "In three full days you may return again and get your marriage license." When I heard this I was thrown into a state of shock and could only think, "Either he's a funny-man or I'm crazy". Three trips to Indiana for a plain little piece of paper saying we were eligible to be married by a competent official. I could better afford a trip to the French Riviera.

Realizing the "luck of the Irish" wasn't with us, we bid our adieu to some very law-abiding Hoosiers and set sail for another county seat, some 25 miles away. There we tried again and received the same story but a little more definite. The clerk heard the tale and said, "Your story touches my heart, but no dice!"

THEN ONTO LIBERTY, Ind., 65 miles in the opposite direction. There we were told that a marriage license (I was beginning to think we were asking for uranium) would be granted if an Indiana doctor would cross out our Ohio doctor's name and insert his own.

After a half hour, repeating our plea for the fifth time (I had it memorized by now), the doctor relented and signed for a nominal fee. Upon returning to the clerk's office we were informed that they couldn't grant the license because it must be issued by the county seat in which the marriage ceremony would take place.

It was now five minutes before closing time and I didn't believe we could make it to South Bend and St. Joseph County 160 miles in this period of time. I therefore said we would take the license anyhow and take our chances at Notre Dame.

The application was then filled out, they took our money and I said, "Mail us the license when the three-day waiting period is up, please." The clerk said, "I'm sorry, but you must pick it up in person." Now I ask the state legislature of Indiana, "What could possibly be the reason for this last obnoxious rule? Don't you trust the US Mail?"

Heading back to Ohio (I couldn't wait to cross into Ohio before something else happened) we read over a few pamphlets on this new Indiana marriage law. While reading we discovered that the clerk was wrong and that a marriage license issued by any county is valid throughout the state. My only question now is, "Is there anyone who would like to accompany me to Indiana next week?"

The trip was especially interesting and nerve-racking because of the weather. For two months the weather has been fine and the driving unobnoxious. But the date we selected to go, Old Mother Nature hits us with the worst driving conditions this winter.

There was rain, sleet, snow and ice. We took Route 40 because it was a U. S. highway. Bingo—a detour from Springfield to Richmond! On our return trip six inches of snow had fallen in some sections of the state. I didn't know from one moment to the next if I was still on the road, in the ditch, or turning around several times in the road.

All in all it took 11 hours for a trip that should have taken only six. We were completely exhausted when we arrived in Columbus.

ANOTHER exasperating point.

HOLLYWOOD — Two pretty models sold kisses from a booth at Hollywood Blvd. and Vine St. for one dollar per. Proceeds went to the March of Dimes. The kisses were made of chocolate.

I spent $6 for gas, $1.50 for oil, $3 for another blood test, $2.50 for a broken fan belt, $5 for the marriage license, and to top it off, due to the late hour I had to buy my bride-to-be a $5 steak. A total of $23 for a $2.15 marriage license.

To conclude, the moral of this actual story is, if you want to get married, don't leave your bride's county seat. Before long, Hoosiers will be coming to Ohio to be married.

Indiana hasn't forgotten the beatings it has taken at the hands of the Buckeye football teams and are taking it out on us unsuspecting and innocent bridegrooms. If my name was Bob White I could understand.

Twin Defeats Kingston Five

Winners Get Hot In 89-61 Victory

The Kingston Redskins dropped a high scoring game to Twin last night, 89 to 61, as they ran into a fast and tough quintet. Led by Compher, a 5-7 demon on the fast break, the Twin aggregation had control of the contest from the starting whistle.

The Twin club made its first seven attempts from the field, for a 14 point lead before Kingston could work up a sweat. By the end of the first quarter Twin led 23 to 15. The Redskins, one of the lower standing teams of the Ross County league, met their fastest opponent yet this season.

This Twin unit consists of sophomores and juniors with no seniors at starters. Last year they took a beating from most opponents and didn't win over four or five games. Even though they were being defeated so often, their coach let the youngsters play and this year it is beginning to pay off.

Twin got hot in the third period, scoring points and holding Kingston to 10. Twin kept the ball moving and its passing was fast. In the final period, the Redskins were outscored 24 points to 19.

LARRY Large was the Kingston stalwart scoring 19 points on sets and jump shots from the outside. The Redskins were handicapped as Large, John Wolfe and Arnold Bee played the last three quarters with four personals charged against them. Wolfe and Bee finally fouled out in the third period.

Twin shot 59.9 per cent from the field with 32 field goals on 55 attempts, while Kingston shot a respectable 43 per cent. Kingston now stands 5 and 9 on the season.

The nearest trick of the night was turned in by Mike Hosler who sank a long, long one from the center of the floor just as the third quarter buzzer was sounded.

The Tigers hope to shake their two-game losing streak tonight when they travel to Chillicothe for a return engagement with the formidable Cavaliers. The reserve test is scheduled to start at 7 p. m.

Circleville gained some consolation by registering a 35-27 victory in the reserve contest.

THE Kittens battled to a 13-5 first quarter lead and stayed ahead for the remainder of the game.

Randy Bob Shadley turned in his best game of the season by firing for 10 points and doing some able rebounding. Leo Moats added nine points and also worked well under the boards. Archie Ward followed with eight markers and Larry Hannahs and Jake Bailey each posted four.

Burton and Pfeiffer with eight each were high for the Lucasville juniors.

Frustrated Couple Finds Marriage License Elusive

By J. I. SMITH
Herald Staff Writer

So you want to get married in Indiana? Well, take it from this reporter and his bride-to-be it will be the most frustrating, agonizing and exasperating experience of your pre-marital life.

Wednesday we left for Richmond, Ind. around 1 p. m. to obtain our marriage license. This was the last legal requirement we needed to be married January 25 on the campus of the University of Notre Dame, South Bend, Ind.

In our possession were the blood tests taken by our personal physicians and approval of the Ohio Department of Health, Columbus. The blood tests were in forms sent to the Ohio Health Dept. by the State of Indiana, which required the state to conduct the examination instead of a private laboratory.

My bride-to-be is presently employed by the Dr. Anson Brown Technical Lab, Columbus, and has been there for 3 1/2 years. She therefore has handled hundreds of blood tests for Indiana marriage licenses. Since there was no information presented to her laboratory or to the state lab of any change of Indiana law we were rather elated on our drive toward the Hoosier state. We thought we were just matter-of-factly going to Indiana to obtain a simple and uncomplicated marriage license like many thousands of Ohioans had received before.

AS HAS BEEN commonly known for many years (since Kentucky instituted laws preventing quick marriages), Indiana has been the "marrying state". Many elopements by teenagers and hasty marriages had been accomplished by Ohioans in Indiana.

Our only worry was the time element. We both could get off work for only half a day and time was growing short. Our first premonition of disaster should have struck us as we entered Richmond and found that Indiana was an hour behind us in time and that it was only 2 p. m.

We arrived in the Richmond Marriage License Bureau. The clerk asked for our age identification, which was quite a complication, and then for our blood tests. Immediately she informed us that they were invalid as of January 1, 1958 and that we couldn't obtain our license. After pleading for 10 minutes and explaining that on the bottom of the tests it said they were good for 30 days. We asked to see the judge.

He heard our story and said he would talk to the clerk. Well, we thought this would be a simple matter of understanding our plight and the rather absurd law would be overlooked in our case.

How wrong can two people get? The judge returned and explained that no exception could be made and that we would have to get blood tests approved by a doctor practicing in Indiana.

"This will take several days," he said, "and then you must return and pick up your blood tests and make application for a license." He continued, "In three full days you may return again and get your marriage license."

When I heard this I was thrown into a state of shock and could only think, "Either he's a funny man or I'm crazy". Three trips to Indiana for a plain little piece of paper saying we were eligible to be married by a competent official. I could better afford a trip to the French Riviera.

Realizing the "luck of the Irish" wasn't with us, we bid our adieu to some very law-abiding Hoosiers and set sail for another county seat, some 25 miles away. There we tried again and received the same story but a little more definite. The clerk heard the tale and said, "Your story touches my heart, but no dice!"

THEN ONTO LIBERTY, Ind., 65 miles in the opposite direction. There we were told that a marriage license (I was beginning to think we were asking for uranium) would be granted if an Indiana doctor would cross out our Ohio doctor's name and insert his own.

After a half hour, repeating our plea for the fifth time (I had it memorized by now), the doctor relented and signed for a nominal fee. Upon returning to the clerk's office we were informed that they couldn't grant the license because it must be issued by the county seat in which the marriage ceremony would take place.

It was now five minutes before closing time and I didn't believe we could make it to South Bend and St. Joseph County 180 miles in this period of time. I therefore said we would take the license anyhow and take our chances at Notre Dame.

The application was then filled out, they took our money and I said, "Mail us the license when the three-day waiting period is up, please." The clerk said, "I'm sorry, but you must pick it up in person." Now I ask the state legislature of Indiana, "What could possibly be the reason for this last

Heading back to Ohio (I couldn't wait to cross into Ohio before something else happened) we read over a few pamphlets on this new Indiana marriage law. While reading we discovered that the clerk was wrong and that a marriage license issued by any county is valid throughout the state. My only question now is, "Is there anyone who would like to accompany me to Indiana next week?"

The trip was especially interesting and nerve-racking because of the weather. For two months the weather has been fine and the driving unobscured. But the date we selected to go, Old Mother Nature hits us with the worst driving conditions this winter.

There was rain, sleet, snow and ice. We took Route 40 because it was a U. S. highway. Bingo—a detour from Springfield to Richmond! On our return trip six inches of snow had fallen in some sections of the state. I didn't know from one moment to the next if I was still on the road, in the ditch, or turning around several times in the road.

All in all it took 11 hours for a trip that should have taken only six. We were completely exhausted when we arrived in Columbus.

ANOTHER exasperating point.

HOLLYWOOD — Two pretty models sold kisses from a booth at Hollywood Blvd. and Vine St. for one dollar per. Proceeds went to the March of Dimes. The kisses were made of chocolate.

I spent $6 for gas, $1.50 for oil, $3 for another blood test, $2.50 for a broken fan belt, $5 for the marriage license, and to top it off, due to the late hour I had to buy my bride-to-be a $5 steak. A total of $23 for a $2.15 marriage license.

To conclude, the moral of this actual story is, if you want to get married, don't leave your bride's county seat. Before long, Hoosiers will be coming to Ohio to be married.

Indiana hasn't forgotten the beatings it has taken at the hands of the Buckeye football teams and are taking it out on us unsuspecting and innocent bridegrooms. If my name was Bob White I could understand.

Twin Defeats Kingston Five

Winners Get Hot
In 89-61 Victory

The Kingston Redskins dropped a high scoring game to Twin last night, 89 to 61, as they ran into a fast and tough quintet. Led by Compher, a 5-7 demon on the fast break, the Twin aggregation had control of the contest from the starting whistle.

The Twin club made its first seven attempts from the field, for a 14 point lead before Kingston could work up a sweat. By the end of the first quarter Twin led 23 to 15. The Redskins, one of the lower standing teams of the Ross County league, met their fastest opponent yet this season.

This Twin unit consists of sophomores and juniors with no seniors a starters. Last year they took a beating from most opponents and didn't win over four or five games. Even though they were being defeated so often, their coach let the youngsters play and this year it is beginning to pay off.

Twin got hot in the third period, scoring points and holding Kingston to 10. Twin kept the ball moving and its passing was fast. In the final period, the Redskins were outscored 24 points to 19.

LARRY Large was the Kingston stalwart scoring 19 points on sets and jump shots from the outside. The Redskins were handicapped as Large, John Wolfe and Arnold Bee played the last three quarters with four personals charged against them. Wolfe and Bee finally fouled out in the third period.

Twin shot 59.9 per cent from the field with 32 field goals on 55 attempts, while Kingston shot a respectable 43 per cent. Kingston now stands 5 and 9 on the season.

WORRY

It is worse than many a disease.
It can make you old before your time.
It can even kill you.
And before it does, it can destroy all your happiness.
We know all that . . . why then, do we worry?
We worry because we have too many fears for our shallow supply of faith.
A man or woman needs faith enough to brush aside his fears.
God is ready to give you all the faith you need.
But you'll never get it worrying all week . . .
In Church next Sunday, you can renew and strengthen your faith. In so doing, you will be able to face life unafraid.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

BRING A FRIEND TO CHURCH WITH YOU

Polish Scientist Eyes Freedom

Implications of the decision by an outstanding Polish scientist to ask asylum in the United States are reassuring, especially at this time. They buttress confidence that the scientific spirit flourishes best in a climate of freedom—though the communist world has seized primacy in some fields of inquiry.

There can be little question that in the race to conquer outer space red Russia leads the West. It seems probable that Russia is also ahead of the U. S. in the training of scientists and technicians. But this Polish scholar's action in getting himself and his family past the iron curtain into the West is proof the communist world has not yet completely conquered the minds of men who work in science.

Dr. Jerzy Leon Nowinski, 52-year-old research professor in the field of thermoelasticity at the University of Warsaw, has won several state prizes from the Polish communist regime. He eminence in the field of mathematics having to do with the stresses and strains of metals under varying degrees of temperature conditions led to an invitation to lecture at the Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore. That opened the door to the West.

When his wife and child later were able to reach England on the pretext of a visit there, Dr. Nowinski closed that door behind him.

Scientists, as Dr. Nowinski confirmed, are given preferred treatment under communism. But the special privileges he and his family enjoyed were not enough to offset the limits placed on his freedom and the extremely poor living conditions. He was especially anxious that his daughter, 8, should not be subjected to the communist brand of education.

So Western freedom continues to have appeal for those behind the iron curtain. Because of it the United States has gained the services of a man who can contribute much in the drive to match Soviet feats in outer space.

U.S. Books as Ambassadors

If the average person were asked to choose 350 books which would best represent the United States to the world, what would he include?

This unique opportunity was actually presented recently to a committee implementing a gift by the Carnegie Foundation to the libraries of the British Commonwealth. Their task was to find books that would best interpret the broad scope of America not only to an Englishman but to an Australian or any other educated person in the farflung commonwealth.

As one would expect, the list included such American masterpieces as Twain's "Huckleberry Finn" and Melville's "Moby Dick." It also contained the best of Benjamin Franklin, Emerson, Thoreau and Walt Whitman.

In the next major category of books were those on America the boundless and bio-ographies of rivers, reports by explorers and discoveries, first-hand accounts of journeys by such historians as Parkman. Walter Prescott Webb's "The Great Frontier" and Bernard DeVoto's trilogy on the opening of the West were included.

Reviewers in commenting on the Carnegie "book shelf" have pointed out that not only is there a great breadth of subjects but also there is the "firce, definite and induplicable... imprint" of individualistic authors as Edgar Allan Poe or Thorstein Veblen.

The optimism expressed in many of these books, particularly hopefulness about America's future, prompted the comment by one reviewer, "The America he (the reader) will find here is self-assertive, but it is not juvenile... a nation that has come into possession of its past, of its arts, of its self-confident and self-conscious powers."

Jersey Different in Politics

By George Sokolsky

The State of New Jersey is different from other states in that part of its population works in New York, another part in Philadelphia. Its industrial cities such as Newark, Passaic, Paterson, and there are many more, are constantly growing and its bedroom towns to which New Yorkers move, are increasing in number and population.

Politically, the state used to be Republican but in recent years, it has become Democratic. In fact, the most powerful so-called big city boss developed anywhere in this country, Frank Hague, was a Jersey Democratic satrap. It is a state with large populations of Poles, Hungarians, White Russians and other former Europeans.

Like the Republican Party in New York State, the Republicans in New Jersey have become torn by interneine strife between Moderns, as represented by Senator Clifford Case, and the pre-1952 Republicans who have been voting Democratic locally, thus helping Governor Meyner in the last election to enjoy a run-away victory. The pre-1952 Republicans, in New Jersey believe, as their counterparts in New York believe, that if they have to vote a radical, they would prefer him to be in the Democratic Party.

New Jersey's senior U. S. Senator H. Alexander Smith's term is up and he has wanted to be re-elected. Although he is 77 years old, by no stretch of the imagination can he be regarded as aged, since Senator Green of Rhode Island is 90 and can chacha for long and arduous hours.

Maybe, Green possesses such gifts because he is a bachelor. At any rate, Smith, who has regularly served the Eisenhower Administration faithfully, was declared to be too aged in favor of Bernard Shanley who was the President's secretary and resigned that position to run for Smith's.

Shanley either miscalculated his strength or the value of the President's name, but his candidacy has not built the momentum that had been expected. Furthermore, the Republican leadership of the state had anticipated that by joint action of the two United States Senators, Smith and Case, and the state chairman, Samuel L. Bodine, if Shanley could not be put over, they would be able to call off all sorts of other candidates and instead nominate Representative Peter Frelinghuysen, Jr., who is an Eisenhower Republican and comes of an old and distinguished New Jersey family.

Such a move, however, is not likely to succeed as there is such strong grass-roots opposition to the Republican leadership in New Jersey that several unexpected persons are presenting themselves as candidates for the nomination of United States Senator in Smith's place. Among the most active of these is Robert Morris, who is resigning his position as counsel for the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee.

Morris has held judicial office in New York State, but comes of a New Jersey family with deep roots in that state. He is actively campaigning as a conservative Republican with a long history of anti-Communist activity as counsel for Congressional committees. Morris is making an energetic fight for the nomination, going directly to those who are likely to vote in the primaries and rekindling Republican aspirations.

HAIR TODAY, GONE TOMORROW—Dressed for his role of pirate Jean LaFette in "The Buccaneer," Yul Brynner wears a mustache and hair. The film is in the works in Hollywood, Calif. (International)

This contest is interesting because it is developing into a clear-cut fight between the Modern Republicans and the pre-1952 Republicans on a basis of principle and strategy. Perhaps the greatest strategic weakness of the Republican Party both in New York and New Jersey is that the acknowledged leaders have lost contact with the party's supporters who have in a large measure been drifting away during the past five years.

During the Roosevelt and Truman Administrations, these Republicans had targets which they could fight against which they held local lines. Since Eisenhower became President, their targets have been removed and all they can do is grumble. Many stay away from the polls; many vote for local Democrats.

This analysis represents Republicans who want nothing for themselves. They ask of their party a candidate for whom they can conscientiously vote. They did not feel that Senator Clifford Case was such a candidate, but they had no organized means to defeat him.

Since his election, Senator Clifford Case has had practically no influence in New Jersey. It is possible that the conservative element in the Republican Party will take over in the 1958 election, but it is not at all certain that any Republican can be elected.

Learn Swim Rules Now

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

A glance at the calendar tells me that it's time to talk about swimming. Oh, I know it's the middle of January, but that's the best time to discuss swimming precautions and procedures.

Next summer, all the health writers will be offering advice on what and what not to do in the water. However, reading a piece about swimming in January, might make enough of an impression on you so that you'll remember it.

Besides, some of the more fortunate among us probably are planning a winter vacation in the sunshine of the South or West where swimming is a year-round sport. They will need some advice at this time.

If you plan to do much swimming this year, it's a good idea to begin limbering up your muscles in the local YMCA or YWCA pool. While you probably never will forget how to swim, you've got to build up your prowess gradually by swimming often during the winter and spring months.

Unfortunately, some 7,000 Americans will die by accidental drowning during the summer months of June through August this year. Three out of every four of these drownings will occur within 60 feet of shore.

An estimated 90,000,000 Americans use swimming facilities each year. Yet 90 per cent of them are either very poor swimmers or they can't swim at all.

Is it any wonder that we have so many drownings?

We are not all heroes. Some times it's very foolish to attempt to be one. If you're not a good swimmer, I don't expect you to try to save anyone's life. You may only lose your own in the attempt. But you can and should know a little about helping to take care of a person who has just been rescued from drowning.

The methods of artificial respiration are too difficult to attempt to explain here. Have someone show you how to perform them.

But you can learn four simple points of after care.

Once a nearly-drowned person has been revived, he should be:

1. Kept warm and dry. Cover him with a blanket, towels or clothing to keep him from becoming chilled.

2. Give a stiff whiff of spirits of ammonia. This may temporarily help him breathe deeper.

3. Placed on his side, if his condition permits it. This will ease his breathing movements and prevent regurgitation.

4. Removed to a hospital as soon as possible. He must be handled with great care to prevent development of secondary shock.

Question and Answer

D. G.: What causes a child to have extreme weakness in his arms in spite of the fact that the muscles are extremely well formed?

Answer: It may be that the child is suffering from a form of muscular dystrophy in which there is some wasting of the muscles even though they may appear to be well-formed. This can only be determined by a careful examination of the muscles and nerves.

Polish Scientist Eyes Freedom

Implications of the decision by an outstanding Polish scientist to ask asylum in the United States are reassuring, especially at this time. They buttress confidence that the scientific spirit flourishes best in a climate of freedom—though the communist world has seized primacy in some fields of inquiry.

There can be little question that in the race to conquer outer space red Russia leads the West. It seems probable that Russia is also ahead of the U. S. in the training of scientists and technicians. But this Polish scholar's action in getting himself and his family past the iron curtain into the West is proof the communist world has not yet completely conquered the minds of men who work in science.

Dr. Jerzy Leon Nowinski, 52-year-old research professor in the field of thermoelasticity at the University of Warsaw, has won several state prizes from the Polish communist regime. He eminence in the field of mathematics having to do with the stresses and strains of metals under varying degrees of temperature conditions led to an invitation to lecture at the Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore. That opened the door to the West.

When his wife and child later were able to reach England on the pretext of a visit there, Dr. Nowinski closed that door behind him.

Scientists, as Dr. Nowinski confirmed, are given preferred treatment under communism. But the special privileges he and his family enjoyed were not enough to offset the limits placed on his freedom and the extremely poor living conditions. He was especially anxious that his daughter, 8, should not be subjected to the communist brand of education.

So Western freedom continues to have appeal for those behind the iron curtain. Because of it the United States has gained the services of a man who can contribute much in the drive to match Soviet feats in outer space.

U.S. Books as Ambassadors

If the average person were asked to choose 350 books which would best represent the United States to the world, what would he include?

This unique opportunity was actually presented recently to a committee implementing a gift by the Carnegie Foundation to the libraries of the British Commonwealth. Their task was to find books that would best interpret the broad scope of America not only to an Englishman but to an Australian or any other educated person in the farflung commonwealth.

As one would expect, the list included such American masterpieces as Twain's "Huckleberry Finn" and Melville's "Moby Dick." It also contained the best of Benjamin Franklin, Emerson, Thoreau and Walt Whitman.

In the next major category of books were those on America the boundless and biographies of rivers, reports by explorers and discoveries, first-hand accounts of journeys by such historians as Parkman. Walter Prescott Webb's "The Great Frontier" and Bernard DeVoto's trilogy on the opening of the West were included.

Reviewers in commenting on the Carnegie "book shelf" have pointed out that not only is there a great breadth of subjects but also there is the "fierce, definite and indelible imprint" of individualistic authors as Edgar Allan Poe or Thorstein Veblen.

The optimism expressed in many of these books, particularly hopefulness about America's future, prompted the comment by one reviewer, "The America he (the reader) will find here is self-assertive, but it is not juvenile... a nation that has come into possession of its past, of its arts, of its self-confident and self-conscious powers."

Jersey Different in Politics

By George Sokolsky

The State of New Jersey is different from other states in that part of its population works in New York, another part in Philadelphia. Its industrial cities such as Newark, Passaic, Paterson, and there are many more, are constantly growing and its bedroom towns to which New Yorkers move, are increasing in number and population.

Politically, the state used to be Republican but in recent years, it has become Democratic. In fact, the most powerful so-called big city boss developed anywhere in this country, Frank Hague, was a Jersey Democratic satrap. It is a state with large populations of Poles, Hungarians, White Russians and other former Europeans.

Like the Republican Party in New York State, the Republicans in New Jersey have become torn by intestine strife between Moderns, as represented by Senator Clifford Case, and the pre-1952 Republicans who have been voting Democratic locally, thus helping Governor Meyner in the last election to enjoy a run-away victory. The pre-1952 Republicans, in New Jersey believe, as their counterparts in New York believe, that if they have to vote a radical, they would prefer him to be in the Democratic Party.

New Jersey's senior U. S. Senator H. Alexander Smith's term is up and he has wanted to be re-elected. Although he is 77 years old, by no stretch of the imagination can he be regarded as aged, since Senator Green of Rhode Island is 90 and can chacha for long and arduous hours. Maybe, Green possesses such gifts because he is a bachelor. At any rate, Smith, who has regularly served the Eisenhower Administration faithfully, was declared to be too aged in favor of Bernard Shanley who was the President's secretary and resigned that position to run for Smith's.

Shanley either miscalculated his strength or the value of the President's name, but his candidacy has not built the momentum that had been expected. Furthermore, the Republican leadership of the state had anticipated that by joint action of the two United States Senators, Smith and Case, and the state chairman, Samuel L. Bodine, if Shanley could not be put over, they would be able to call off all sorts of other candidates and instead nominate Representative Peter Frelinghuysen, Jr., who is an Eisenhower Republican and

How To Curb Toddler Who Is Creeping

By Garry Cleveland Myers, Ph.D.

The most difficult time for the baby and mother is when the child begins to creep and "get into everything."

This is the most strategic time for him to learn certain limitations. Good consistent training can save him and his mother from a lot of annoyances then and in years later. It's the time for him to have his first effective lesson in learning the meaning of "No."

He must be kept in sight all the time he is free to creep about on the floor, until he automatically learns to avoid dangerous places. At all other times when he is awake, he should be in a play pen.

It will simplify the procedure to remove all bric-a-brac and dangerous things like floor lamps, but one. Center your attention on this and any constant danger like the fireplace or stove. If you are first training him to avoid a low table, he could at the same time learn to avoid it and various things on it.

Place him on the floor and let him creep as he pleases until he approaches the one forbidden place or thing.

As he is about to touch it, say "No" once, in a moderate tone, as you take his hand and slap it, sharply. Do this just once. Move him gently away from the forbidden place or thing. Then say nothing, do nothing until he is about to touch it again.

Continue with this procedure

without exception. If he touches the forbidden thing more than four or five times, or gets greatly worked up, hold and rock him or put him in the play pen. Have more such training periods later.

Be sure never to say "No" more than once for each forbidden act. Also be sure to accompany the "No" with pain. Don't pull him away before he touches it, however. If you do, you will greatly slow down his learning. Allow no exceptions.

After he has finally learned to avoid a few specific acts or places, you can effectively say "No" to new ones. By and by, a quiet "No" will deter him from most or all new forbidden acts or places. Then all the regular articles can be put back.

OHIO OUTDOORS

from THE OHIO DIVISION OF WILDLIFE

Ohio's second modern statewide deer hunting season was highly successful, according to preliminary reports, and may indicate a greater deer harvest than during the 1956 season.

Deer hunter report cards checked through December 28 show 3,003 deer killed. This is greater than the reported kill for the same period of time in 1956.

Report cards are coming in slowly at this date and this report is incomplete. This preliminary report does indicate the relative size of the kill as compared to past seasons. It also indicates the general distribution of the deer kill and the kill by counties.

Extremely cold weather covered the entire state for the first three days of the four day (December 11-14) season. In northeastern Ohio, heavy snows drifted by high winds kept the deer harvest static or possibly lower than in past seasons. The kill in southeastern Ohio, especially the southern portion of the region was high. There was also an increased harvest in northwestern Ohio.

THE deer picture in Ohio today is much brighter than it was in December 1943, when the first modern day deer season was held in Scioto, Pike and Adams counties. Although the best deer range and likewise the most deer are found in the eastern half of the state, the whitetail is now present in all of the state's 88 counties. Ohio deer are fine specimens with ideal food conditions and hunting seasons permitting the taking of both bucks and does being largely responsible.

O. A. Alderman, chief, Division of Forestry, Ohio Department of Natural Resources has announced that bids are being accepted for the construction of two frame buildings on the Marietta Nursery grounds.

The two buildings will house 60 honor camp men from the Ohio Penitentiary and will replace temporary buildings used for this purpose since May 1950.

According to E. W. Miles, forester in charge of operations, the new structures are being enlarged to accommodate 20 additional men to help meet the increasing forest nursery operations. The regular nursery employees will be retained for supervisory personnel.

With the completion of this facility in 1958, the total number of honor camp men at this and two other nursery sites plus two camps on state forests throughout the state, will number 240.

The approximate cost of constructing the two buildings is $154,000. Plans, specifications and things he can handle with pleasure and approval. If you are consistent, you'll be amazed at how soon little or no pain will be necessary.

(My bulletins, "How to Teach Tot Meaning of No" and "Teaching Child Care of Property," may be had by sending a self-addressed, U. S. stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.)

other information may be obtained from the State Architect's office, Room 705, Ohio Departments Building, Columbus. Bids for constructing the two buildings will be opened February 11, 1958 in the Ohio Departments Building.

ACCORDING to C. V. Youngquist, chief, Division of Water, Ohio Department of Natural Resources, rainfall for December was above normal at all eight U. S. Weather Bureau rain gaging stations used in this report.

The average rainfall for these stations was 4.20 inches (1.51 inches above normal.) Only one station showed an accumulative deficiency for October, November and December this year.

Last year all the stations showed deficiencies during the same period. Generally, the bulk of the precipitation received during the month came as snow on the 7th and as rain on the 17th and 18th and again on the 25th.

The 8 inches of snow recorded at Columbus on the 7th represented an all-time high for the month of December during a 24 hour period. Intensity of rainfall for the month varied from north to south.

Cleveland reported the least and Cincinnati the most. Toledo, Cleveland, Youngstown and Akron each reported between 3 and 4 inches. Columbus, Dayton and Chillicothe reported between 4 and 5 inches and Cincinnati over 5 inches.

The flow past the gaging station near East Liverpool on Little Beaver Creek was 174 per cent of normal this month as compared with 143 per cent of normal this month a year ago. Runoff per square mile was 1.22 cubic feet per second this month as compared with 1.00 this month a year ago.

FLOW past the gaging station at Chillicothe on the Scioto River was 457 per cent of normal this month as compared with 41 per cent of normal this month a year ago.

Runoff per square mile was 2.60 this month as compared with 0.179 this month a year ago.

The combination of excessive rainfall, above normal temperatures, and the increase of ground-water discharge to the streams has accounted for above normal stream flow. There were no extremely high flows but stream levels remained consistently high through the whole month. Reservoirs generally throughout the State were at satisfactory levels and compared favorably with levels this month a year ago.

Ground-water levels showed a rising trend in all twelve index observation wells this month, from 1 to 6 feet in some cases. Mean water levels were higher than last month in all but one index observation well.

Recharge to ground water reservoirs was good during the month, in fact the greatest rises since 1951 were shown. Only two or three Decembers in the past 10 years have shown better recharge. The combination of excess precipitation and the fact that the ground remained unfrozen provided ideal recharge conditions, not often encountered in December.

Nine of the twelve index wells showed mean levels to be higher than the average for the 5-year base period (1949-1953). Two index wells showed the highest December mean water levels for the period 1949-1957.

In general the ground-water level for December is more favorable than at any time since 1951. Unless there is considerable deficiency of precipitation during the remaining 3 months of the recharge period the rising trend of ground-water levels can be expected to continue and for the following summer will be normal or above.

By Garry Cleveland Myers, Ph.D.
The most difficult time for the baby and mother is when the child begins to creep and "get into everything."

This is the most strategic time for him to learn certain limitations. Good consistent training can save him and his mother from a lot of annoyances then and in years later. It's the time for him to have his first effective lesson in learning the meaning of "No."

He must be kept in sight all the time he is free to creep about on the floor, until he automatically learns to avoid dangerous places. At all other times when he is awake, he should be in a play pen.

It will simplify the procedure to remove all bric-a-brac and dangerous things like floor lamps, but one. Center your attention on this and any constant danger like the fireplace or stove. If you are first training him to avoid a low table, he could at the same time learn to avoid it and various things on it.

Place him on the floor and let him creep as he pleases until he approaches the one forbidden place or thing. As he is about to touch it, say "No" once, in a moderate tone, as you take his hand and slap it, sharply. Do this just once. Move him gently away from the forbidden place or thing. Then say nothing, do nothing until he is about to touch it again.

Continue with this procedure

without exception. If he touches the forbidden thing more than four or five times, or gets greatly worked up, hold and rock him or put him in the play pen. Have more such training periods later.

Be sure never to say "No" more than once for each forbidden act. Also be sure to accompany the "No" with pain. Don't pull him away before he touches it, however. If you do, you will greatly slow down his learning. Allow no exceptions.

After he has finally learned to avoid a few specific acts or places, you can effectively say "No" to new ones. By and by, a quiet "No" will deter him from most or all new forbidden acts or places. Then all the regular articles can be put back.

from THE OHIO DIVISION OF WILDLIFE

Ohio's second modern statewide deer hunting season was highly successful, according to preliminary reports, and may indicate a greater deer harvest than during the 1956 season.

Deer hunter report cards checked through December 28 show 3,003 deer killed. This is greater than the reported kill for the same period of time in 1956.

Report cards are coming in slowly at this date and this report is incomplete. This preliminary report does indicate the relative size of the kill as compared to past seasons. It also indicates the general distribution of the deer kill and the kill by counties.

Extremely cold weather covered the entire state for the first three days of the four day (December 11-14) season. In northeastern Ohio, heavy snows drifted by high winds kept the deer harvest static or possibly lower than in past seasons. The kill in southeastern Ohio, especially the southern portion of the region was high. There was also an increased harvest in northwestern Ohio.

THE deer picture in Ohio today is much brighter than it was in December 1943, when the first modern day deer season was held in Scioto, Pike and Adams counties. Although the best deer range and likewise the most deer are found in the eastern half of the state, the whitetail is now present in all of the state's 88 counties. Ohio deer are fine specimens with ideal food conditions and hunting seasons permitting the taking of both bucks and does being largely responsible.

O. A. Alderman, chief, Division of Forestry, Ohio Department of Natural Resources has announced that bids are being accepted for the construction of two frame buildings on the Marietta Nursery grounds.

The two buildings will house 60 honor camp men from the Ohio Penitentiary and will replace temporary buildings used for this purpose since May 1950.

According to E. W. Miles, forester in charge of operations, the new structures are being enlarged to accommodate 20 additional men to help meet the increasing forest nursery operations. The regular nursery employees will be retained for supervisory personnel.

With the completion of this facility in 1958, the total number of honor camp men at this and two other nursery sites plus two camps on state forests throughout the state, will number 240.

The approximate cost of constructing the two buildings is $154,000. Plans, specifications and things he can handle with pleasure and approval. If you are consistent, you'll be amazed at how soon little or no pain will be necessary.

(My bulletins, "How to Teach Tot Meaning of No" and "Teaching Child Care of Property," may be had by sending a self-addressed, U. S. stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.)

other information may be obtained from the State Architect's office, Room 705, Ohio Department Building, Columbus. Bids for constructing the two buildings will be opened February 11, 1958 in the Ohio Department Building.

ACCORDING to C. V. Youngquist, chief, Division of Water, Ohio Department of Natural Resources, rainfall for December was above normal at all eight U. S. Weather Bureau rain gaging stations used in this report.

The average rainfall for these stations was 4.20 inches (1.51 inches above normal.) Only one station showed an accumulative deficiency for October, November and December this year.

Last year all the stations showed deficiencies during the same period. Generally, the bulk of the precipitation received during the month came as snow on the 7th and as rain on the 17th and 18th and again on the 25th.

The 8 inches of snow recorded at Columbus on the 7th represented an all-time high for the month of December during a 24 hour period. Intensity of rainfall for the month varied from north to south.

Cleveland reported the least and Cincinnati the most. Toledo, Cleveland, Youngstown and Akron each reported between 3 and 4 inches. Columbus, Dayton and Chillicothe reported between 4 and 5 inches and Cincinnati over 5 inches.

The flow past the gaging station near East Liverpool on Little Beaver Creek was 174 per cent of normal this month as compared with 143 per cent of normal this month a year ago. Runoff per square mile was 1.22 cubic feet per second this month as compared with 1.00 this month a year ago.

FLOW past the gaging station at Chillicothe on the Scioto River was 457 per cent of normal this month as compared with 41 per cent of normal this month a year ago.

Runoff per square mile was 2.60 this month as compared with 0.170 this month a year ago.

The combination of excessive rainfall, above normal temperatures, and the increase of ground-water discharge to the streams has accounted for above normal stream flow. There were no extremely high flows but stream levels remained consistently high through the whole month. Reservoirs generally throughout the State were at satisfactory levels and compared favorably with levels this month a year ago.

Ground-water levels showed a rising trend in all twelve index observation wells this month, from 1 to 6 feet in some cases. Mean water levels were higher than last month in all but one index observation well.

Recharge to ground water reservoirs was good during the month, in fact the greatest rises since 1951 were shown. Only two or three Decembers in the past 10 years have shown better recharge. The combination of excess precipitation and the fact that the ground remained unfrozen provided ideal recharge conditions, not often encountered in December.

Nine of the twelve index wells showed mean levels to be higher than the average for the 5-year base period (1949-1953). Two index wells showed the highest December mean water levels for the period 1949-1957.

In general the ground-water level for December is more favorable than at any time since 1951. Unless there is considerable deficiency of precipitation during the remaining 3 months of the recharge period the rising trend of ground-water levels can be expected to continue and for the following summer will be normal or above.

Darby Dumps New Holland in 56-46 League Contest

By J. I. SMITH
Herald Staff Writer

The Darby Trojans last night fought their toughest foe to date, won their most well-deserved victory over the New Holland Bulldogs, 56 to 46. New Holland battled them down to the final buzzer even though they played the last 15 seconds with four men.

Highlight of the game was the tremendous play of the Bulldogs' John Lininger, both on defense and offense. Big John was leaping at least four feet off the floor on defense, stopping the jump shooting of Darby's Ronny Guthrie and Ned Musselman. On offense Lininger was unstoppable once he had the ball under the basket.

For Darby, lithe Tomm Walters, a sensational sophomore, led the Trojans to their seventh straight league victory. Walters was in complete control, especially in the final quarter when Darby used a stall. Little Tommy reminded the fans of Marquis Harries, the Harlem Magicians star, as he dribbled through the New Holland full court press with the ease of an elf.

New Holland took a 12 to 7 first quarter lead, as Darby had the jitters. A loss tonight would have thrown the Pickaway County league into a three-way tie for first place. Lininger was very effective in this period as he covered both buckets like a blanket and limited the Trojans to one shot at a time.

DARBY regained some of its poise in the second quarter and outscored New Holland 14 to 11, but still trailed 23 to 21 at halftime. The Dutchmen were able to make Darby play their brand of deliberate ball, taking no unnecessary shots. Another disadvantage to both teams was the slippery floor, was due to the water condensing on the floor. Over 500 fans witnessed the contest in the Bulldog gym that had a seating capacity for 300.

Coach John McPherson really gave his Trojans a talk at halftime, for they came out in the second half and immediately tied up the game at 23 all. New Holland tied the game once more after that, in the middle of the third quarter, 31 to 31, but never regained the lead. The Trojans became used to the floor and adapted their play to the tractionless court.

By the end of the third quarter Darby led 40 to 31. New Holland could only hit eight points in this period as the Trojans rolled to a nine-point lead on a hot streak that New Holland couldn't check. Lininger was out for a minute or so as he acquired his fourth foul and Darby really went to town during his absence.

Of Darby's 19 points in this quarter, nine of them were free throws. In all, during the second half the Trojans scored 21 points at the charity line of 24 for the game.

Coach Bob Melick, realized that something drastic had to be done if his team was to pull victory No. 10 out of the fire. Therefore he stalled a full court press and this was New Holland's downfall. The Trojans were prepared for just such a tactic and capitalized on the Bulldog's desperate play. Darby only attempted four shots from the field and made good on two in the final period. The balance of its 16 points came at the free throw line.

New Holland lost Lininger, Roger Yeoman and Charlie Free via the foul route, while Darby lost Gary Wardell. Though New Holland lost its second game of the season (both in league play), it had a tremendous defense, using a two under and three out zone that shifted perfectly to stop the Trojans two top scorers. The Dutchmen, though small, keep their hands in their opponent's faces and leap like kangaroos.

DARBY won last night on the basis that it made New Holland play a fast brand of ball in the last half. New Holland also was forced to come out after the ball in the final quarter when Darby got hot during the latter part of third period and jumped to a 10 point lead.

CLEAN REBOUND — New Holland's Bill Garrison (33) leaps high to take the ball off the bankboard in the New Holland-Darby contest played last night at New Holland. League leading Darby maintained its perfect record in the Pickaway County loop by handing the Bulldogs a 56-46 defeat. Rushing in to do something about Garrison's efforts are Darby's Gary Wardell (33) and Tommy Walters, (partly concealed). Rushing in to assist his teammate is New Holland's Charlie Free (77).

Darby shot 34 per cent for the evening, attempting 46 shots and connecting on 16. From the free throw line, where they won the game, the Trojans shot 70 per cent, hitting 24 of 34 attempts.

New Holland attempted 52 shots from the field and clicked on 15 for a poor 28 per cent. The Bulldogs had 13 turnovers compared to 14 for Darby.

Lininger, who is easily one of the outstanding ball-players in Central Ohio, led the scoring for both squads with 22 points. Ten of his points came at the free throw line. Kenny Speakman followed with 10 points.

The Trojans were led by Ned Musselman, even though he had difficulty getting off his accurate jump shot due to Lininger, with 18 points. Guthrie followed with 13 and Walters had 12.

Darby now has the top season record of Pickaway County schools with 10 victories in 11 outings. New Holland dropped to third place in the league with a 5 and 2 record as Ashville was successful with 78 to 52 win over Monroe and remain in second position. New Holland and Ashville meet next week at New Holland.

The reserves bore the brunt of the slippery floor as New Holland brushed the once-defeated in league play Trojans 57 to 37. The Bulldogs seemed more adaptable to the court and drove right past the Darby junior varsity as they couldn't set themselves.

Large led New Holland with 23 points, followed by Bochard, 12, and Puffinberger, 15. Darby was led by Liff with 17 and Cox with 9.

Scioto Quint Nips Columbus Team, 73-52

The Scioto Bulldogs registered victory No. 10 last night with a 73 to 52 win over Franklin Heights of Columbus. Led by their two amazing little guards, Roger Knapp, 23, and Dickie Melvin, 21, the Bulldogs were pressed little and played a rather nonchalant game.

Scioto took a 13 to 10 first quarter lead and were on top 28 to 24 at halftime, as the Franklin team stayed even with them throughout the first half. Knapp, though scoring 23 points, didn't have a good night. He missed many shots and could only score on drive-ins and a few jump shots. Both Buffalo guards couldn't tally from the outside and relied on a driving game under the basket.

Scioto got started in the third period scoring 21 points, and holding Franklin to 11. Bill Whiteside, 10, and Gary Clark, 11, contributed their scoring in the final half to give Scioto four men in the double figure column.

The Buffaloes scored 24 points in the final quarter to Franklin's 17. According to Coach Joe Corbett, Scioto played a rather poor game and was especially inept at the foul line. The Buffaloes dunked 13 of 29 for 45 per cent and for the second game in a row fell down at the charity line.

Johnson was high for Franklin Heights with 18 points on jump shots from around the foul circle. He was followed by Bopst with 12.

The Pirates grabbed an 11-7 first quarter lead and increased this margin to 28-14 as the half ended. The third quarter score read 38-26 in favor of Pickaway and Atlanta couldn't dent this margin in the final frame.

The winless Red Raiders now have dropped 12 games in a row. The Pirates have won four and lost eight.

Gail Wolfe with 12 markers and Eddie Evans with 11 were the chief pointmakers for Pickaway.

DARRELL Long was high for Atlanta and tops for the evening with 16 tallies. Buzz Gearhardt chipped in with 10 and Jerry Newton added six.

Atlanta's rugged reserve squad won its eighth victory of the season with a 42-40 decision over the Pirate underclassmen.

Broncs Defeat Monroe, 78-52

Ashville's powerful Broncs handed Monroe its 12th straight loss last night at Ashville. The final score read 78-52 in favor of Broncs.

Ashville's big quarter was the third when the Broncs hit for 30 points to salt the game away. The third period score read 60-40, Ashville.

The win moved Ashville into sole possession of second place in the Pickaway County League with a 6-1 record. Darby leads the pack with a 7-0 record and New Holland is third with a 5-2 mark.

Ashville's sophomore Bobby Hoover led the way with 21 points. Brother Dick connected for 18 and Don Rathburn came through with 18.

FULLER was high for Monroe with 19 and Mallory chipped in with 11.

Ashville added another victory in the reserve tilt by handing the visitors a 40-18 shellacking.

Amanda Loses 44-38 Contest

The Amanda Aces played one of their worst games of the season last night, dropping a 38 to 44 loss to previously winless Millersport. Neil Delong, who led area scoring for several weeks, was held to no points during the contest and teammate Skip Young tallied only four.

The Aces, who defeated Stoutsville 65 to 47 earlier this season, lost to a team that the Indians blasted 69 to 44 on the Millersport court.

Amanda trailed 18 to 10 at the end of the first quarter and 23 to 20 at halftime, as they doubled the score on its opponents in this period.

In the third quarter Millersport turned the tables on the Aces and more than doubled the score on them 11 to 5, and took a 34 to 25 lead. The Aces came back and scored 13 points to Millersport's 10, in the final period but not enough for victory.

Amanda couldn't seem to do anything right last night, as the ball wouldn't go through the hoop. Millersport, who lost seven regulars of last years' team, had little experience to offer but caught Amanda on its poorest night of the year and recorded victory No. 1.

Bob Stoneman led Amanda with 13 points followed by Gene Miller with 7, Allen, 18, and Boughman, 16, were tops for Millersport.

Brennan and Hayes Feeling 'Ignored'

COLUMBUS 46—Terry Brennan, Notre Dame coach, and Woody Hayes of Ohio State's Western Conference and Rose Bowl champions, believe they are being ignored and neglected.

So said Brennan, tongue-in-cheek, Friday night as he was awarded a trophy as the "Comeback Coach of the Year" at the

Walnut Edges Deers, 63-61

Bryant Cage Unit Staves Off Rally

The closest came in Pickaway County last night was a 63-61 victory recorded by Walnut over Williamsport. The test was at Walnut.

Coach Glen Chester's forces made a valiant effort to overhaul the Wildcats in the final frame by outscoring the host team 16-10 in this period.

However, Coach Tom Bryant's cagers successfully defended an early lead and went on to win in a final flurry of excitement.

The Deercreek cagers gave a good account of themselves after falling behind, 14-6, at the first quarter mark. Walnut led throughout but couldn't waylay the Deers for a comfortable advantage.

DAVE Myers put on quite a scoring exhibition by blasting the hoop for 24 points on 10 buckets and four foul shots. Nick Stonerock and Eddie James did their part with 15 markers each.

The two Stone boys, Danny and Phil, provided the spark for Walnut by posting 14 and 12 points respectively. Phil, only a sophomore, was hitting well from outside and Danny accounted for most of his tallies from the same position.

Walnut made it a double win by handing the visitors a 40-30 loss in the reserve game.

Centralia Five Scores Easy 72-48 Victory

The Centralia Bulldogs last night racked up victory No. 10, with an easy 72 to 48 win over Southeastern of the Ross County League. The Bulldogs were led by the magnificent shooting of pint-size Bobby Shaw with 35 points.

Shaw, who led the area scoring last week went far out in the lead with his display of shooting last night on his home court. Little Bobby was hitting with his jump shots and sets from outside the foul circle.

The first quarter was slow as Centralia took a 9 to 5 lead. By halftime the Bulldogs led 29 to 17 with a 20 point spurt in this period. Mammoth Floyd Myers, who scored just eight points, attempted few shots, as he fed the sizzling Shaw and covered both bankboards with his huge frame and over an eighth of a ton of muscle.

Centralia continued to burn the nets with 17 points in the third period to increase its lead 46 to 27. They tallied 26 points in the final quarter to keep even with Southeastern, who scored 21. The Bulldogs Bobby Dearth had 15 assists to his credit last night and dropped in eight points.

Shaw shot 66 per cent, making 15 field goals on 23 attempts. Brown led Southeastern with 15, followed by Rittinger, 12, and Chenaunt, 10. Centralia committed 14 personals and Southeastern 13.

The Teen-Age Problem

Is Pop Really Just Jerk? TV, Movies Show Him So

By DEANE and DAVID HELLER
Written for Central Press

Is dear old dad really a dope? A good-hearted, nitwitted bumbler with hardly enough sense to come in out of the rain?

That's the impression you might get by watching most family situation television shows and plenty of movies. It's a wonder the poor old guy gets around without a guardian.

Pop is the inept comic; the boy who takes the bumps. He can't do anything right and if it weren't for Mom and the smart kids, there's no telling what trouble the poor-simple-minded oaf would blunder into.

Let Dad try to repair a pipe and he ends up half-drowned and the cellar full of water. Let Mom go away for a day and leave Pop in charge of cooking a meal. What happens? The poor clod can't even boil water.

IN EPISODE after episode in TV serials, Dad is shown as a good-natured imbecile. Does the lawn need cutting? Then you can bet Dad is busy thinking up a far-fetched idea to sneak off with the boys. However, you can give heavy odds he won't get away with it. Mom'll catch him, and tweaking his ear, return him to the path of duty.

The moral is abundantly clear. Mom is the only parent in the family with good sense. Pop is the ineffectual comic relief.

No wonder teen-age kids (and even younger ones) shrug off their father's advice with good-natured contempt! Haven't they been shown over and over and over (what video script writer is going to vary such a sure-fire formula?) that Dad doesn't know what he's talking about?

Numerous experts, like Prof. Ernest W. Burgess of the University of Chicago's famed Family Study center, have reported that the role of the father as head of the household has been steadily downgraded in American life.

Changes in American life are making it hard for Pop to maintain the respect of his children. Dr. Burgess reports. In the long ago days of family farms, he was owner and manager. A man of importance.

"In the modern city, however, the father and husband has been reduced to the status and role of an employee in a large company or organization," Dr. Burgess says.

"The rising status of women in society is accompanied by her rise in influence in the home. Her husband correspondingly has experienced a downward movement."

Ohio Hog Market Holding Steady

COLUMBUS (AP)—The price of market hogs at Ohio's interior markets has held steady at $19.75 a hundredweight for eight straight days.

The result was that the average price was 10 cents higher this week than last.

Light receipts were primarily responsible, experts believed.

Choice light sows bulked at $15.75-$16.25 and heavy sows at $13.50-$15.50.

Mass Due Tuesday For Retired Priest

ZANESVILLE (AP)—A solemn requiem pontifical mass will be sung at 10 a. m. Tuesday in St. Nicholas Roman Catholic Church here for the Rev. Lucius J. Kessler, 87, a retired priest in Zanesville.

A native of Lancaster, he also served parishes in Gallipolis, Sugar Grove, Bremen, Jackson, Shawnee, Moxahala and Newark. Burial will be in Lancaster.

Uniform Rules Sought

AKRON (AP)—Delegates attending Friday's regional conference of the Ohio Bar Assn. unanimously adopted a resolution calling for uniform court rules governing traffic cases.

Papa's portrayed as a clown while kids look on.

band correspondingly has experienced a downward movement. In some families the husband's authority has struck bottom."

Most disastrous to the standing of parents with their children has been the effects of mass media of communication, says the educator.

"In the rural community of the past and even in town and urban neighborhoods mother held some distinction. She baked the best cake, or embroidered best, or raised the finest roses. However, any such accomplishments today are dwarfed by the glamorous stars of far-away Hollywood who take her place as models for her daughter."

"A SMALL SON of the past regarded his father as the embodiment of physical prowess and bravery. But how can he compete today with Rock Hudson?"

"As a result the children to a great degree are emancipated from the informal as well as the formal authority of parents. Moving into the vacuum of influence is the control exerted by the teenage group—a control as absolute or even more absolute than that ever wielded by parents," Dr. Burgess declares.

Maybe there's nothing that can be done. Of course, nobody wants Pop to be an iron-fisted tyrant. However, is it asking too much of television to plead that impressionable young kids, glued before the family TV set, see Dad portrayed as a man with at least reasonably good sense?

HE'S KEEPING GYPSY BRIDE—Tony Stanley, son of Detroit's gypsy king, Tom Stanley, holds hands with his bride, Rosie Demetro Stanley, a gypsy from another clan. Stanley's clan says Tony bought his bride for $2,500 from her father. They were married in Washington, D. C., in gypsy ceremonies then went through a legal ceremony in Michigan. The Demetro clan now wants the bride returned, charging the gypsy marriage was a betrothal and that Stanley paid only $600. (The bride says she's pregnant and will stay with her husband.
